

Yachting Australia Club Coach (NCAS Sailing Level 2)

RPL Policy

---

What constitutes prior learning?

If a trainee coach has undertaken learning prior to commencing the Training Program, which gives them the skills set out in the learning outcomes of any particular module. They can apply for Recognition of Prior Learning to gain exemption from having to repeat that particular module. Prior learning can be formal - ie training programs, structured coaching experience or informal, ie life experience.

What can I gain recognition for?

The modules contained in the Training Program are as follows:

- 2.0 Boat Handling Skills
- 2.1 Planning and Evaluation
- 2.2 Physical Conditioning
- 2.3 Tactics and Strategy
- 2.4 Racing Rules

Full details of each module are available within the course document.

If you have completed a Yachting Australia or Australian Yachting Federation Level 2 Sailing Coaching Course prior to December 2005 and are currently accredited with Yachting Australia, you may apply directly to Yachting Australia for Recognition of Prior Learning for the full Training Program.

If you have completed a TAFE, University or similar course overseas which you believe covers some or all of the modules contained in the Training Program, you should apply for Recognition of Prior Learning to Yachting Australia for consideration on a case by case basis. Please include in any application, your academic transcript, statements of attainment or similar documents. You may also be required to supply course syllabus information.
